Summer Transition Work

Congratulations you are now entering the next exciting phase of your education – here at Blackfen!

Our first task is to ask you to complete this booklet and bring it with you in September as you will need it to complement what you will be doing in different subjects in those first few lessons. There are 2 or 3 tasks for each subject and we want you to show us what you can achieve. Remember it's about having a go, doing your best and trying hard: have you heard the saying... "if at first you don't succeed.... try, try again"? Can you find out who is quoted as having said this first?

At Blackfen we believe that the sky is the limit in terms of your potential. We believe that success is down to effort and not just skill or talent. We believe that if you try your best, listen to the advice and feedback that your teachers give you and learn from your mistakes then you too can achieve great things!

There is no such thing as failure! There is no such thing as 'I can't'! There is only a first or fourth or fifth or fiftieth attempt in learning. There is only 'I don't get it YET'

You will learn more about this while you are here but, in the meantime, remember being stuck is good, finding things challenging is good!

There are 16 activities for you to work through, numbered 2 to 16 (there is a 5a and a 5b). You don't need to print them off, you can just write your answers on paper, just remember to include the subject at the top so you don't get them all muddled together. Of course, you are welcome to print them if you prefer.

It goes without saying that you should use your best handwriting and all your normal full sentence structure. Think carefully about your spellings too.

We look forward to meeting you all in September.
