Law Taster Lecture

You are invited to join us this term to hear from some of our fantastic academic speakers for a 30 minute taster lecture offering an interesting insight into what it would be like to study their subject at university.

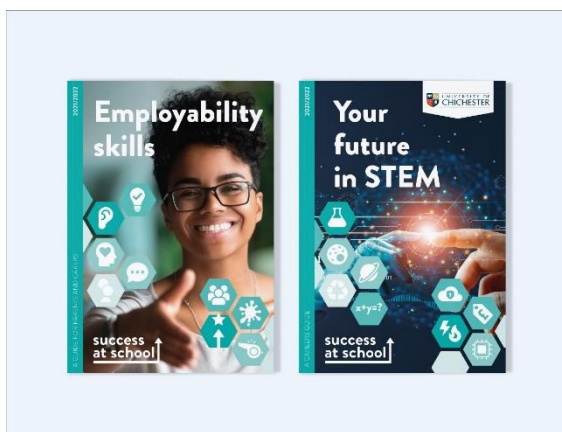

This term we hope to bring you an exciting lecture from our Law tutors. Our taster lectures will last for 30 minutes and we will invite any questions for our academics at the end of each session. The taster lecture is:

Wednesday 8th December 15:00 Assisted Reproductive Technology and Legal Parenthood

Charlie Seager introduces legally a mother is a parent by virtue of the fact that she physically gives birth to the child. A father is legally a parent by virtue of being married to the legal mother. Technically speaking, no genetic connection is required to prove parenthood with married couples. So, what happens in surrogacy arrangements, and other methods where children are conceived with the help of assisted reproductive technologies? Who is mum and dad? This session will look at the confusing world of parenthood and explore some curious case law where the current legal methods for assigning 'mother' and 'father' have clearly failed to meet the intention of the parties involved.

We are really looking forward to welcoming you to join us as part of this Taster Lecture Series!
